85 ATTEND LUNCHEON AT A.M.A. CONVENTION

Eighty-five members of the Fraternity, representing all sections of the country—from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Minneapolis on the north to New Orleans on the south—assembled for the Phi Rho Sigma luncheon held in Atlantic City's Ambassador Hotel on Wednesday, June 12, during the annual meeting of the American Medical Association. Lambda Phi Chapter, of the University of Pennsylvania, sent the largest delegation—13, with Rho Chapter, of Jefferson Medical College, a close second with 12 representatives.

Dr. Elias P. Lyon, ΘT, of Minneapolis, was the northernmost representative, with Dr. George H. Kress and Dr. Albert Soiland traveling across the country from Los Angeles, and Dr. G. H. Hauser bringing the colors of Delta Omicron Alpha from New Orleans. Boston sent Dr. C. Guy Lane, N, Dr. Robert Zollinger, Ω, and Dr. Myron J. Hahn, ΑΦ, and from Taunton, Massachusetts, came Dr. Robert M. Bell, of Alpha Delta Chapter. The lone delegate from the far northwest was Dr. W. L. Jackson, P, of Burlington, Washington.

The luncheon was arranged by a committee under the direction of Dr. Norman M. Macneill, P, chairman. The following is a complete list of those present:

Alpha, C. E. Woodward, Decatur, Ill.

Beta, Everett Porter Coleman, Canton, Ill.

Gamma, R. L. Sensenich, South Bend, Ind.

Delta, George H. Kress and Albert Soiland, Los Angeles, Calif.

Zeta, A. J. Baker, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Branhan Baughman, Frankfort, Ky.; S. W. Donaldson, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Dean L. Hosmer, Bluefield, W. Va.; Clarke M. McCall, Highland Park, Mich.; and Richard Sutton, Kansas City, Mo.

Epsilon, L. C. Harvie, Saginaw, Mich.; Ralph A. Perkins, Detroit, Mich.; and S. Martin Tweedie, Sandusky, Mich.

Iota, A. E. Bennett, Omaha, Nebr.; Glenn S. Everts, Philadelphia, Pa.; William J. Shaw, Fayette, Mo.; and Eugene E. Simmons, Omaha, Nebr.

Kappa, Arthur B. Barrett, Lexington, Ky.; Everett O. Black, Binghamton, N. Y.; Hamblen C. Eaton, Warren, Pa.; T. K. Gruber, Eloise, Mich.; Elmer C. Loomis, Dayton, Ohio.; and R. F. Machamer, Tiffin, Ohio.

Lambda Phi, Charles C. Crouse, Greensburg, Pa.; Park A. Deckard, Harrisburg, Pa.; J. P. Griffith, Pittsburgh, Pa.; R. N. Lowrie, N. Braddock, Pa.; Louis Schneider, Newark, N. J.; and O. H. Cox, New York, N. Y.

Nu, James Payton Leake, Washington, D. C.; and C. Guy Lane, Boston, Mass.

Pi, George Dillinger, French Lick, Ind.; C. H. McCaskey, Indianapolis, Ind.; F. W.

Socola, President of the New Orleans Alumni Chapter. Standing: Homer D. Barber, Joseph M. Brocato, Nicholas J. Chetta, Charles J. Cucchiara, John M. Lyons, Wm. F. McDonnell, Ernest S. Merse.

POSTGRADUATE BODY CONVENES IN DETROIT

The International Medical Assembly of the Inter-State Postgraduate Medical Association of North America was held in Detroit, Michigan, from October 14 to 18, inclusive, with pre-assembly clinics being given on the 12th and post-assembly clinics on the 19th. The program committee, headed by Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of the Mayo Clinic, prepared for this, the twentieth anniversary meeting of the Assembly, "an unusually interesting clinical and didactic program including all branches of Medicine and Surgery and the Specialties." The following members of Phi Rho Sigma assisted in its presentation:

Dr. Henry A. Christian, N, Hersey Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physics, Harvard University Medical School, who presented a diagnostic clinic on "Types of Oedema and Their Treatment";

Dr. Elliott C. Cutler, N, Moseley Professor of Surgery, Harvard University Medical School, who conducted a diagnostic clinic on "Headache";

Dr. Alfred W. Adson, ΘT, Professor of Neurosurgery, University of Minnesota Graduate School of Medicine, who delivered an address entitled, "Diagnosis and Treatment of Surgical Lesions of the Spinal Cord";

ALPHA MU BECOMES THIRTY-SIXTH CHAPTER

Alpha Mu Chapter, of Louisiana State University, officially became the thirty-sixth chapter of Phi Rho Sigma Fraternity at installation ceremonies conducted on Saturday, May 25, 1935, in the De Soto Hotel, New Orleans. Dr. Calhoun McDougall, vice-president of the Grand Chapter and chairman of the Committee on Expansion, and District Councilor Francis L. Jaubert were officially in charge of the installation.

The ceremonies opened with the initiation of the eight members of the new chapter by the members of Delta Omicron Alpha Chapter, of Tulane University, in the Acadian Room of the hotel. The initiates are: John E. Garcia, Jr.; Homer D. Barber, who transferred to Louisiana State from Chi Beta Chapter of Emory University; Joseph M. Brocato, Nicholas J. Chetta, Charles J. Cucchiara, John M. Lyons, William F. McDonnell, and Ernest S. Merse. The initiation concluded, Dr. McDougall presented the new chapter its charter, after which the gathering adjourned to the Evangeline Room for the installation banquet.

The dinner was followed by addresses by Dr. McDougall, Dr. E. A. Socola, president of the New Orleans Alumni Chapter; Dr. Arthur Vidrine, dean of the Louisiana State University Medical Center; Dr. Robert A.

WITH THE ALUMNI
HERE . . THERE and EVERYWHERE

Dr. Paul K. Sauer, ΛΦ, addressed the New York Surgical Society on "Carcinoma Following Gastric and Duodenal Ulcer," April 24, 1935.

Colonel Edward G. Huber, Z, has been retired from the Army Medical Service and been appointed instructor in epidemiology in the School of Public Health, Harvard University. He is also epidemiologist in the Division of Tuberculosis, Massachusetts State Department of Health. After more than 30 years in the Army, Colonel Huber at last has a permanent address, 45 Homewood Road, Waban, Massachusetts.

Dr. Joseph McFarland, ΛΦ, professor of pathology at the University of Pennsylvania, suffered a concussion of the brain in an automobile accident which, on September 23, 1935, took the life of Dr. Neil McLeod, instructor at Pennsylvania and Dr. McFarland's assistant, and caused slight injuries to Dr. H. M. Dixon, also an assistant in the University of Pennsylvania medical school. Dr. McFarland was reported to be "in good condition" at Paul Kimball Hospital in Lakewood, New Jersey, near which place the accident occurred.

Dr. R. L. Sensenich, Γ, of South Bend, Indiana, is president of the Indiana State Medical Association for 1936.

Dr. LaRue M. Hoffman, ΛΦ, has been appointed associate in abdominal surgery at Williamsport Hospital, Williamsport, Penna.

Dr. John Wright, AZ, orthopedic surgeon of Pasadena, California, returned during the latter part of August from an extended trip in Arizona.

Dr. Marshall Stewart, AA, Associate Editor of the JOURNAL, is now in charge of the Department of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology of the medical dispensary in the Chicago area of the United States Army.

Dr. Fred W. Seymour, B, has passed the examination of the regular army medical corps and is now stationed at Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

Dr. Charles K. Smith, B, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Kanakakee, Illinois, Medical Society.

At the sixty-fifth annual meeting of the Colorado State Medical Society in Estes Park, September 4-7, the following Phi Rhos took part in the program: Dr. Osgoode S. Philpott, M; Dr. Thomas D. Cunningham, N; Dr. William M. Bane, A; and Dr. Thaddeus P. Sears and Dr. Constantine F. Kemper, both of Psi Chapter. All five men are residents of Denver.

Dr. Harold O. Jones, A, of Chicago, is president-elect of the Chicago Gynecological Seciety.

Dr. George H. Whipple, Ξ, Nobel Prize winner, received an honorary LL.D. degree at the centennial anniversary of the Tulane University School of Medicine.

Dr. Albert Soiland, Δ, of Los Angeles, and Dr. Isaac A. Abt, A, of Chicago, were guest speakers at the meeting of the Missouri Valley Medical Society at Quincy, Illinois, October 2-4.

Dr. Earl H. Ryan, Ω, and son, and Dr. R. W. Nosker, Ω, and son, returned on July 29 from a ten-day trip to Parry Sound, Canada.

Dr. Verne A. Dodd, Ω, spent the month of August at Otsego Lake, Michigan.

Dr. R. A. Rogers, Ω, attended the San Diego Exposition during the first two weeks in September.

Dr. Helbert B. Blakey, Γ, and Mrs. Blakey spent a month in York Harbor, Maine, where they were guests at the Marshall House.

Dr. Francis Joseph Dever, for the past 15 years internist-head at St. Luke's Hospital, Fountain Hill, Pennsylvania, tendered his resignation to the trustees at their annual meeting on June 17, 1935. Pressure of private practice was given as the reason for his resignation. He was appointed internist emeritus.

Dr. Noel S. McBride has announced the opening of an office in Rooms 407-408, Merchants National Bank Building, Terre Haute, Indiana. His practice is limited to ophthalmology and otolaryngology.

Dr. Russell G. Means, Ω, has been elected to the board of directors of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce for 1935-36.

Dr. Bruce Newcomer Wolff, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, was married to Miss Dorothy Burg Seiple at Boiling Springs, Pennsylvania, on June 8, 1935.

Dr. Clarence Hogue Ingram, Jr., of Pittsburgh, was married to Miss Mary Katherine Evans at New Rochelle, New York, on July 10, 1935.

Dr. Russell D. Herrold, Γ, Councilor for Illinois, returned to Chicago on September 3 from his vacation in San Antonio, Texas.

Dr. Nathaniel G. Alcock, A, professor of urology at the University of Iowa, and Dr. Lawrence E. Kelley, A, of Des Moines, Iowa, addressed the County Medical Society at its August meeting in Mason City, Iowa. Dr. Alcock's subject was "Transurethral Prostatectomy."

Dr. Walter M. Simpson, Z, Associate Editor of the JOURNAL, read a paper on "Undulant Fever" before the Chautauqua Medical Society of New York, on July 24, 1935. Dr. Simpson also addressed the Greene County (Ohio) Medical Society on August 1.

The following alumni of Beta Chapter have received appointments to residencies in the Illinois Research Hospital: R. H. Puumala, in medicine; Frank B. Deardorff, in obstetrics; and Fred Roos, in gynecology.

Dr. George E. Brown, Z, of the Mayo Clinic, addressed the Great Falls (Montana) Medical Society on July 3, his subject being "Cardiovascular Diseases."

DEAN CUTTER ADDRESSES FRATERNITY CONFERENCE

The seventh meeting of the Professional Interfraternity Conference took place in Chicago on Friday and Saturday, October 11 and 12.

James W. Armstrong, dean of men, Northwestern University, opened the discussion at the Friday morning session with an address entitled, "The Newer Relation Between Fraternities and The Universities." Phi Rho Sigma's representative on the program, Dr. Irving S. Cutter, former Grand President of the Fraternity and dean of the Northwestern University medical school, then addressed the Conference on "Cooperation Between The College and The Professional Fraternity." H. G. Wright, Delta Sigma Pi, secretary-treasurer of the Conference, presented a paper on "National Fraternity Finance"; J. D. Sparks, executive secretary-treasurer of Alpha Kappa Psi, read another on "Chapter Finance"; and V. W. Meloche, first vice-president of Alpha Chi Sigma, discussed "Chapter Inspection" in the third and last paper preceding the general discussion which closed the morning session.

Paul M. Cook, executive secretary of Phi Delta Kappa, opened the afternoon session with a paper entitled "Organized Alumni Activities." "The Alumni Advisory Committee" was the subject of the second paper, by Dr. Harry G. Irvine, grand president of Alpha Kappa Kappa, who was followed on the speaker's stand by A. L. Doud, Jr., master of rolls of Delta Theta Phi, with a paper on "Fraternity Manuals." Dr. E. J. Carey, editor of the Phi Chi Quarterly, dean of the Marquette University medical school, and vice-president of the Medical Interfraternity Conference, read the last paper, on "Professional Fraternity Magazines—Their Financing and Circulation," after which the Conference considered unfinished and new business.

The concluding session, Saturday morning, was featured by a discussion of "The Relationship of The Professions—Chemistry As Related to The Allied Professions" by Marvin C. Rogers, Alpha Chi Sigma. A general round table discussion preceded the election of officers and final adjournment.

BOURNE WINS SECOND ANAESTHESIA AWARD

Dr. Wesley Bourne, AΓ, of McGill University, joint recipient last winter of the prize award of the British Journal of Anaesthesia for his research work with Dr. Bernard B. Raginsky on "Vinyl Ether and Its Effects on the Normal and Impaired Liver," won a new and especially distinctive honor last May when the Royal Society of Medicine, of London, England, made the first award of the Hickman Medal to him. The Hickman Medal, founded in 1931, is awarded, by the terms of the deed of foundation, at intervals of not less than three years, beginning in 1935, "for original work of outstanding merit in anaesthesia or in subjects directly connected therewith." The award is open to any person of any nationality.

Henry Hill Hickman, in whose memory the Medal has been founded, was a young doctor in Ludlow, Shropshire, England, born in 1800. He experimented with gases for anaesthesia—nitrous oxide and carbon dioxide—and gave them successfully to his patients. In 1829, he attempted to demonstrate to physicians in London, but permission to do so was refused him. The Academy of Medicine of Paris finally did grant him that permission, but the patient who served as subject in the demonstration was a difficult one, and the experiment failed. Dr. Hickman was laughed at for his failure and in 1830 died of a broken heart.

Vol. XXXII Oct.-Nov., 1935 No. 1

THIS journal is published by the Fraternity with the hope that it will be read by every living member and in an attempt to interpret the life of the medical student and the work of the Fraternity to the individual alumnus.

Congratulations, Alpha Mu

The JOURNAL is happy, upon its return to publication, to combine with a greeting to all Phi Rhos, a word of welcome and of congratulation to the most recent addition to our Fraternity roster, Alpha Mu Chapter of the Louisiana State University medical center.

We are proud that you, the members of the new chapter, have chosen to ally yourselves with Phi Rho Sigma, and we sincerely hope that the ceremonies which initiated you into membership and bestowed upon you the Fraternity's charter, were merely a successful beginning to many, many, equally successful years of fraternity life. As your membership age lengthens into months and into years, you will doubtless meet (and have probably met already) with a variety of difficulties and perplexing problems—the inevitable consequences of the founding of any organization. At the risk of becoming platitudinous, we hope and believe that you will address yourselves to them with patience and determination. Remember that time-worn adage, packed so full with common sense, "Rome was not built in a day."

Your chapter has in it enormous possibilities for good. It can impress upon the consciousness of each of you, as can no written or spoken word, the pricelessness of real friendship, the significance and value of genuine cooperation, and the incomparable satisfaction of accomplishing successfully such tasks as may be imposed upon you as a group. On the other hand, the chapter you comprise may become a weight upon your consciences and a positive detriment to your characters. And, in saying this, we have no desire or intention to appear before you as an apostle of gloom; we simply hope that, in the choices you will be called upon to make from day to day, you will remember your own potentialities as well as those of the chapter you represent.

It Takes All Kinds

The following words of wisdom, tinged here and there with irony, are addressed to fraternity men by J. Arthur Thompson, writing in the Triad of Acacia (quoted from The Alpha of Alpha Kappa Pi, January, 1935):

In making inquiries among men of my acquaintance regarding the ideal fraternity material, I have found a wide divergence of opinion. Some stress one qualification, some another. Some insist that the ideal fraternity man must above all things else be a "mixer" and a polished social lion. Others with equal emphasis declare that he should be a student of highest calibre. Some few pessimists declare that he must have an unlimited pocketbook and that nothing else matters.

Much the same difference of opinion is found among the fraternities themselves when looking over prospective pledges. Some look for one kind of men, while other fraternities demand a totally different type.

In my several years of connections with and observations of fraternities and fraternity life, I have come to the conclusion that they are all right and at the same time all are wrong.

" . . . the man must be clean."

All kinds of men are needed to make up a fraternity. It seems to me that the one thing needful is that the man be clean. If the man is clean, you can make him what you will at your leisure time.

The polished social lion is not made in a minute but it is wonderful what can be accomplished in this line with the most unpromising material. If you go about it in the right way, the worst clodhopper in the bunch may be made into a finished Sheba Stepper in a few months. Of course it takes time and patience to do this.

Athletes bring fame to the group and should by no means be overlooked. The brilliant, scintillating disciples of the Spanish branch of athletics will also add a certain luster to the fraternity diadem. But these are not enough. Other types are needed.

A few carpenters are handy when there are repairs needed about the house. An engineer will often make a grade for you or in a pinch will sometimes plot a curve around some obstacle in the path of progress. A plumber or two may come in handy when there is a leak in the treasury and with the aid of some mathematical sharks may be able to tell you what ought to be done to correct matters. Leaders are always in demand and more often than not, good use may be made of a driver.

Dandies, Beau Brummels, and necktie connoisseurs add color and sparkle to any fraternity gathering and a proper number of this specie should be included in your contingent. But just because a man has a few hayseeds in his hair is no sign that he will not test more than one-half of one per cent. Never overlook a furrow follower, for the man that has sense enough to plow a straight furrow on the farm is quite apt to go on doing so all through life.

Your diamond in the rough is often your best man, for while you are polishing him, he, in turn, will probably knock off a few of your own rough corners. The process for you and him may be painful in the extreme, but in the end it will be good for both of you. So don't overlook the apparently dull and colorless men on the campus; it may be that they only need a little grinding and polishing to make them into the finest of fraternity jewels.

It is hardly necessary to tell you not to overlook the moneyed men. They get bids like a dog does fleas. But then they have their uses and you will get plenty of poor men anyway, so include a few of the rich ones in your selection. (If you can get them.)

Though many fraternities do not think it necessary, I would strongly urge that a student or two be taken into the fold. Even if he is only a greasy grind and burns oil at midnight instead of gasoline, he might come in handy some time. When the finals are near he isn't such a bad chap to know, and when scholarship averages are being figured, his name on the membership list will add a halo of virtue around your chapter, if only momentarily.

All kinds of men are needed if you wish to become a complete and successful fraternity. Brilliant men and dull men, polished men and rough men, wealthy men and poor men, leaders and plodders, all are needed to bring the richest and best of life to the fraternity.

Serves O.S.U. for 22 Years

Dr. Frank R. Castleman, Ω, director of track and field athletics at Ohio State University, last May completed his twenty-second year of active service at that institution. Graduating from Colgate, where he performed on Andy Kerr's football and track squads, Dr. Castleman went to the University of Colorado, where he remained for seven years as football, baseball, basketball, and track coach. During this time he was pledged by Psi Chapter of Phi Rho Sigma, but he was finally initiated into the Fraternity by Omega Chapter, after coming East in 1913 to begin his long period of notably successful work at Ohio State. Some of the results of that work can be seen in the accomplishments of the many star athletes whom Dr. Castleman has trained, among them George Simpson, one-time intercollegiate dash champion who has run the "hundred" in 9.4 seconds; Dick Rockaway, former holder of the world's low-hurdle record; Larry Snyder, present Buckeye track coach, who was another fine hurdler; and Pete Rasmus, once holder of the world's record for the discus throw.

Alpha Chapter

Dr. Robert A. Allen will remain as resident in medicine at Harper Hospital, Detroit, until the fall of 1936.

Dr. Otis E. Marler has been appointed assistant resident in obstetrics at University Hospitals, Cleveland.

Dr. John W. Kemper
. . . promoted at Michigan

KEMPER IS ADVANCED TO PROFESSOR'S POST

Dr. John W. Kemper, Z '27, has been appointed professor of oral surgery in the University of Michigan School of Dentistry, and consulting dental surgeon to the University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

A graduate of the University of Michigan School of Dentistry in 1917, Dr. Kemper practiced oral surgery in Detroit from that year until 1923. He returned to the University as a student, and graduated from the medical school in 1927, after which he served in the department of obstetrics and gynecology as a junior interne until 1928 and as a resident until 1929. In the latter year, Dr. Kemper was named assistant professor of oral surgery in the School of Dentistry, serving in that capacity until 1934, when he was promoted to an associated professorship.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

Dr. Earl Bell has announced the removal of his office to 1305 Pennsylvania Avenue, Wilmington, Delaware.

DELTA CHAPTER
University of Southern California

Delta Chapter held its initiation on March 15, 1935, with one of the best planned and best executed ceremonials in the recent history of the chapter. Dr. Sterling Pierce and Dr. Albert Soiland furnished the location and the excellent supper served after the initiation. At the annual election of officers, Ralph Milliken became president; Robert Mershon, vice-president; Francis Guinney, treasurer; and Fred Hull, secretary. Bill Clothier is the new senior warden.

Dr. William Molony, Δ, presented some interesting information concerning the impending "state medicine" legislation which is before the assembly, and explained what he, as president of the California State Board of Examiners, is trying to do.

At the last meeting of the Chapter before the summer vacation, Dr. C. L. Bennett, B, told a large group of members, pledges, and rushees about the very interesting work that he is doing in endocrinology and in various vitamin deficiency diseases.

The Chapter's "spring formal" was a dinner dance at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Beverly Hills.

Appointments to residencies have been received by Carl Paul at the Ventura County Hospital, and by Don Moffat at St. Vincents Hospital, Los Angeles.

CHI ETA CHAPTER
St. Louis University

Chi Eta Chapter held a smoker for the incoming freshmen at the chapter house on the evening of September 17, 1935. Brothers Weintraub, Kotkis, Malone, and Rose were alumni speakers. Dr. O. P. J. Falk, cardiac specialist and faculty member, gave a very instructive talk on fraternity life and its advantages, both before and after graduation.

Refreshments were served afterwards. President Duga announced that fourteen men had pledged Chi Eta and that the chapter house was at capacity for the year.

D. O. A. CHAPTER
Tulane University

The annual spring dance was held on May 4, 1935, at the De Soto Hotel, New Orleans. All members co-operated in making the affair the best D. O. A. endeavor of the year. Many of the otherwise busy alumni joined their younger brothers in having an enjoyable evening.

On May 25, 1935, D. O. A. initiated the members of the new Alpha Mu Chapter of the Louisiana State University Medical Center at the DeSoto Hotel. The new chapter has finally become a reality through the untiring effort of the D. O. A. alumni at L. S. U. Dr. Calhoun McDougall, Vice President of Phi Rho Sigma, presented the new chapter to its president, John E. Garcia, Jr. The initiation was followed by a banquet at which many prominent members of the L. S. U. faculty spoke.

Dr. Richard M. Street, '35, of Sanford, North Carolina, was married on June 13, 1935, to Miss Jane Eddins, of Slidell, Louisiana, at Slidell. Dr. and Mrs. Street will make their home for the next year in Raleigh, North Carolina, where Dr. Street will serve his internship at Roper Hospital.

ZETA CHAPTER
University of Michigan

The Chapter announces the pledging of the following men: Robert C. Bassett, Thomas B. Carlile, Jr., Norman F. Gehringer, W. LeRoy Bryant, T. Boyd Bolitho, Edward C. Thompson, Leo B. Rasmussen, Hershel L. Browns, Albert F. Milford, and John W. Baluss. The alumni of Ann Arbor and Detroit rendered valuable aid during the fall rushing season and the Chapter members wish to express their gratitude for this cooperation.

In the future, the Chapter will set aside one night each week as Faculty Night, at which time one or more members of the medical faculty will be invited for dinner and for an extra-curricular talk. In this manner, the Chapter members hope to gain knowledge of those subjects not taught in class.

The Galens, honorary medical society, recently elected to its membership two members of Zeta Chapter: Howard A. Schuneman and J. Sherrill Betz.

A Founders' Day banquet is planned for October 31st, in commemoration of the founding of the Chapter. Alumni, members, and pledges are invited.

ALPHA IOTA CHAPTER
University of Manitoba
(Annual News Letter)

When we come to review this year just past we see that there has been revealed in Alpha Iota Chapter of Phi Rho Sigma a vitality and enthusiasm to a degree that must prove a surprise and gratification to all of us. This chapter's inauguration coincided with the beginning of these hard times, when according to all probability the spark of any less worthy body would quickly have been extinguished; but Alpha Iota has continued to expand and develop with each new year.

In 1934-35, under the able leadership of Archie Hardyment, whose enthusiasm provided a stimulus for us all, the Chapter took occupancy of its new house at 768 Victor Street. The arrangement was similar to that prevailing at 911 Winnipeg Avenue, but this year the house matron was a Mrs. Thorvardson. Her mastery of the culinary art (and her I. Q.!) must not go without mention. Once established here this house provided the background for the year's eventful parade.

At one of the earliest meetings last fall the report of the eighteenth general convention was presented by our delegate, Bob Swan. His observations at Minneapolis delineated for us the activities of the Executive and Grand Chapter of our splendid organization.

A more intensive rushing program was conducted this year and the result of the efforts of all the active members proved highly satisfactory. Following a period of activity that included a dinner at the St. Charles hotel and a tea at Moore's Restaurant, as well as the more informal affairs at the chapter house, we initiated seven of the best men (and pledged the two others) in the new class. The initiation took place in February at the Royal Alexandra Hotel and was followed by an auspicious dinner and an even more successful dance, held in the Tea Lounge. The active membership of the Chapter stands therefore at sixteen men, not including our three recent graduates, Brothers Bill Blakeney, Geoff. Homer and Ken Johnstone. The alumni now total twenty-two, and at the close of the term the pledges numbered six.

The fireside talks that were prominent features of previous years have been continued. Prof. A. T. Cameron, as an honorary member has amply demonstrated his interest in our welfare, and his informal visits have been a source of great pleasure to us all. Dr. G. F. Stephens, superintendent of the Winnipeg General Hospital, and Prof. Inkster, of the department of anatomy, have both given us very interesting informal talks during the course of the winter.

Whenever sport is mentioned at the House, everyone thinks of our prestige in hockey circles, for with a team bolstered by the new men Phi Rho came within an ace of capturing the interfraternity title. We hold great hopes for the coming season.

In scholarship our record has been a creditable one, for twenty-one of the twenty-three members and pledges who sat the final examinations managed to escape the scythe of the Grim Reapers. Our charter member and alumnus, Byron Unkauf, who held the Banting Fellowship during the year, further distinguished himself by securing the Prowse prize for his intensive research on the vagus nerve. Our three graduates have also succeeded in obtaining senior interneships at their respective hospitals.

Financially the year was a great success. This was due in no small measure to Laurie Howden, who, as treasurer, and unobtrusively and with great efficiency, kept the books balanced and led the Chapter with colours flying through a year that might have proved threatening and difficult.

As the term drew to a close the annual elections were held and, as a result, Bob Swan succeeded Archie Hardyment in the office of president. Frater Laurie Howden is the new vice-president and Fraters Frank Lundy and Russell McManus are to be the secretary and treasurer, respectively. In spite of our eulogies of chez Thorvardson, we intend to take down our picture and take up residence two doors away, at 776 Victor Street, our new matron being Mrs. Wm. Dalman. The house is the property of our honorary member, Dr. B. J. Brandson, and its superior qualities are

MUCKENFUSS HONORED WITH HIGH POSITION

Dr. Ralph Stewart Muckenfuss, XB, was signally honored during the past summer by his appointment as associate director of New York City's bacteriological laboratories as an understudy to Dr. William Hallock Park, director of the laboratories since 1894. The significance of the appointment, which, says a recent issue of the Emory Alumnus, "was a medical event which attracted attention second only to that accorded the appointment of a successor to Dr. Flexner at Rockefeller Institute," lies in the fact that Dr. Park, who will receive the Roosevelt medal for 1935 for his work with diphtheria antitoxin and whose laboratory was the first in the world to apply the discoveries of Pasteur and Koch to public health, will be forced by compulsory retirement rules to retire from his office.

Dr. Muckenfuss received national recognition two years ago, says the Alumnus, "by managing the research which isolated the viruses causing the epidemic of encephalitis in St. Louis." He was then on the medical faculty at Washington University, having previously "served with distinction as an assistant in the department of bacteriology and pathology at New York's famous Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, under Dr. Simon Flexner." "Medical journals listed him," the Alumnus continues, "as one of 33 American doctors whose achievements in 1933 were outstanding."

Dr. Myron C. Benford has an appointment as resident in ophthalmology at the Illinois Research Hospital, Chicago.

well known to most of us. With this information goes an urgent and cordial invitation to any of our alumni members to visit us whenever they come to Winnipeg.

Having thus briefly summarized the recent episodes in the Chapter's career (if discursively at least authentically) we, the active chapter, take this opportunity to extend to our alumni members the most cordial fraternal greetings, with the hope that we shall maintain, as you have done in the past, the aims and ideals for which the letters Phi, Rho, and Sigma stand.

CHAPTER ETERNAL

Dr. Edwin Raymond Le Count, Γ, professor of pathology in Rush Medical College since 1892, died in Chicago on August 23 of coronary thrombosis. One of America's foremost pathologists, Dr. Le Count was especially noted for his treatment of skull fractures, giving rise to the expression "Le Count on skull fracture"; for his training of young men in pathology; and for his expert performance of post mortems, of which he did approximately 20,000 while serving as attending pathologist to many institutions.

Dr. Le Count was born in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, on April 1, 1868, and received his M.D. from Rush Medical College in 1892. He did graduate work in Johns Hopkins Hospital in 1893 and 1894, in the Pasteur Institute in Paris in 1896, and in Berlin in 1905, meanwhile retaining a professorship at Rush.

Onetime president of the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists and of the Association for Cancer Research, Dr. Le Count also held memberships in the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Society of American Bacteriologists, and the American Medical Association. In the latter body, he served as a member of the House of Delegates in 1903 and as chairman of the Section on Pathology and Physiology from 1920 to 1921. He was attending pathologist in the Cook County, Presbyterian, St. Luke's, St. Elizabeth's, and St. Anthony's hospitals of Chicago.

Dr. Le Count made many contributions to the literature in the field of pathology, and at the time of his death, had completed records of postmortems performed over a period of twenty-five years. These records, completely indexed and annotated, he gave to the library of Rush Medical College.

Dr. George Harris Searcy, Z, died at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, on May 6, 1935, at the age of 58.

Dr. Philip Densmore Amadon, Z, died at Ann Arbor, Michigan, on June 9, 1935, at the age of 35. A Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, Dr. Amadon was instructor in surgery in the medical school of the University of Michigan from 1928 to 1930.

Gordon McNicol, A, an interne at City Hospital, Cleveland, died June 25, 1935. Dean Cutter writes, "McNicol was one of the finest fellows we have ever had and it was a terrible shock to learn of his unfortunate death."

William Cook, XE, an interne at St. Vincent's Hospital, Toledo, died in May, 1935.

The Journal has been informed of the death of Mark Jampolis, A, but no information as to the date or cause of death is available.

Max Myers Fields, Upsilon, of Dante, Virginia, died June 17, 1935, of lobar pneumonia. He graduated in the class of 1928, and after an internship at The Medical College Hospitals, Richmond, he accepted a position with Dr. L. C. McNeer, of Dante, Va., where he remained until his untimely death.

Dr. Ward I. Huber, K, died at his home in Cleveland, October 3, 1935, of arteriosclerosis and chronic Bright's disease.

WANT AD

The JOURNAL has been informed of a vacancy on the interne staff of St. Margaret Memorial Hospital, Pittsburgh, Pa. Anyone desiring to complete a year's internship is requested to communicate with Dr. R. H. McClellan, in care of St. Margaret Memorial Hospital, Forty-Sixth Street, Pittsburgh.
